RESEARCH INTERESTS

I am an evolutionary and quantitative ecologist whose work focuses on developing a deeper understanding of species coexistence and patterns of diversity across spatial and temporal scales, and the underlying processes that drive, maintain and alter such patterns. I have a passion for science and for diversity and inclusion in education and research.

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL SERVICE ACTIVITIES:

1. Official Bolivian member for the Society of Wetlands Scientists, South American Chapter.
2. Research Advisor in Ecology and Natural Resources: National Academy of Sciences of Bolivia, Santa Cruz Chapter (Scientia Crucensis).

OUTREACH:

While working at the Noel Kempff Mercado Natural History Museum in Santa Cruz de la Sierra, I participated in outreach activities with visitors. I participated in guided visits from elementary and high school students and to the ornithological collection at the Museum, where we explored the role of scientific collections in science and society and how we learn about and document biodiversity.

As a postdoctoral fellow at the university of Minnesota, I have been participating in different science outreach programs. One of the programs involves bringing elementary school students (usually 5th and 6th graders) to the University of Minnesota. I lead part of the biodiversity sessions, in which the students can see and manipulate different plant species in the greenhouse and learn about the role of environmental conditions in species diversity, function and adaptations. I have also participated in the Market Science, which aims to connect people with science. In Market Science we created hands-on science activities for children in Farmer's markets.

More recently, I have co-organized an online round-table entitled Diversifying Biodiversity Science under the umbrella of the RCN: Cross-Scale Processes Impacting Biodiversity collaborative project, in which several panelists were invited to talk about their experiences regarding the inequalities in biodiversity science and how they are working to make our work more inclusive. Link to the round-table video on YouTube <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Cylt3bMIsEs&t=296s>

Moreover, I gave a public talk at “Mano a Mano” International Partners (April 2019, <https://manoamano.org>) on wildlife management and indigenous people in Bolivian lowlands. In this talk,

I highlighted the importance of working with local communities in order to preserve the natural capital.
